TO: The Commission

SUPPLEMENT TO PETITION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Yesterday the Chief Administrative Law Judge released an Order in the captioned proceeding, FCC 17M-28, revoking authorizations of William L. Zawila and related parties, terminating the proceeding, and certifying the record to the Commission pursuant to 47 CFR Section 1.92. As expected the Order specifically

No. of Copies rec'd 047
List ABCDE

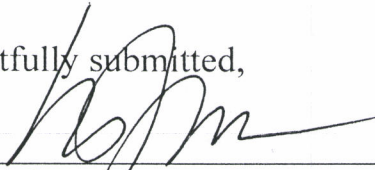

excluded our petitioners from all adverse statements of facts or conclusions of law:

It is FURTHER ORDERED that this ruling shall not apply to Avenal Educational Services, Inc. and Central Valley Educational Services, Inc., both of which have been dismissed from this case without prejudice by virtue of and in accordance with Memorandum Opinion & Order, FCC 16M-25 (June 25, 2016).

We offer this Supplement to highlight the fact that the hearing record in this case is now complete. Nothing stands in the way of the Commission ruling on our March 3, 2017, request to modify the Commission's interlocutory Order of February 1.

In a footnote (no. 127) the judge offered his interpretation of our previous dismissal without prejudice: "Thus, the FCC may bring the same claims against Avenal and Central Valley based on the same set of facts found herein." We stand by our Petition, which set forth at pp. 4-10 a series of cogent reasons why the Commission should decline this invitation. If it were to issue a new Hearing Designation Order, it would be resuscitating a case that, incredibly, began in 2003 and -- without new proceedings -- now will be coming to its merciful and just end.

Respectfully submitted,

Michael Couzens
Attorney for Central Valley Educational Services, Inc. and Avenal Educational Services, Inc.
